Carestream Dental Proud to Announce Partnership with Leading Ladies in Dentistry

This is the latest in Carestream Dental's initiative to elevate women in oral healthcare

ATLANTA—In its ongoing commitment to promote and support gender equality inside Carestream Dental and throughout the dental industry, Carestream Dental is pleased to have become the newest sponsor of Leading Ladies in Dentistry (LLD). This international organization aims to help young women in oral healthcare become leaders of their field.

As its newest partner, Carestream Dental will share exclusive educational resources, webinars, access to mentors and general guidance with LLD members. Additionally, Dr. Shaveta Chalana, marketing specialist in Carestream Dental's APAC region, and Andreea Nita, regional product manager for intraoral imaging and service in Carestream Dental's EMEA region, have both been named Leading Ladies in Dentistry and now join a prestigious international board for clinical research and dental education.

"As one of the only women leading a dental technology company, diversity and gender equality are issues I'm passionate about," Lisa Ashby, CEO, Carestream Dental, said. "When I speak with women in the field, a common theme is how they wished they'd had other women role models to look to when they were getting started. Now, Carestream Dental and Leading Ladies in Dentistry can connect more women in the oral healthcare field with mentors and guidance, unlike in the past."

"The cooperation between LLD and Carestream Dental reflects the synergetic vision of providing female dentists a high-level education and awareness in contemporary digital dentistry," Dr. Henriette Lerner, founder of the Leading Ladies in Dentistry, said.
