LaunchPad by Carestream Dental Takes Digital Learning to New Heights

ATLANTA—As a company dedicated to delivering digital dentistry solutions, developing content to promote all-digital learning only makes sense. Today, Carestream Dental is excited to announce the introduction of “LaunchPad by Carestream Dental,” a program that offers a carefully curated digital learning experience to dental professionals seeking personal and professional development.

LaunchPad accelerates access to premier educational content from leaders in dentistry. Oral healthcare professionals can choose from live webinars, pre-recorded courses, white papers and interactive resources on the industry’s latest insights, tools and software to advance their performance.

Open to users across the globe—including doctors, practice staff, business partners, dealers and more—LaunchPad offers clinical and operational education for free so users can click, learn and takeoff.

“During these difficult times, we want to respond to customers’ needs and provide tools and resources to keep teams primed and ready to go when business returns to normal,” Ed Shellard, D.M.D., chief dental officer, Carestream Dental, said. “Our online webinars and resources offer actionable advice and information that oral healthcare professionals can immediately put into practice.”

Each month, LaunchPad will provide a variety of content related to a specific theme. June’s theme focuses on the Digital Reboot, a new program designed to provide practitioners with resources and solutions that will drive a safer, more efficient recovery. The following are just some of the topics that will be explored as practices consider ways to safely reopen their offices:

- “Preparing To Reopen Your Office”
- “Digital Dentistry – A Safer Way of Practicing in the Post-COVID Era. Are New Technologies an Extension of PPE?”
- Yes! You Are Ready to Open Your Doors. But Are You Ready To Open Your Doors?
